

London's oldest jewellery quarter

To celebrate London Jewellery Week 2010, Hatton Garden will be pedestrianised and host a street festival on Saturday 12 June between 11am and 6pm. This year's Best of British theme will bring to life the historical significance of the area which goes back centuries. It was the setting for Fagan's den in Oliver Twist and Bleeding Heart Yard is littered with royal scandal. The festival will give visitors unique, behind-the-scenes access to the wonderful world of jewellery design and production.

- Watch high-end jewellery being produced.
- Join in flash workshops to create your own jewellery.
- Take advantage of amazing special offers from Hatton Garden jewellers.
- Win prizes worth up to £3000.
- Enjoy fine food and drink in the street.

Shopping

Hatton Garden is a renowned destination for engagement and wedding rings, contemporary jewellery galleries, antique specialists, designer maker studios and jewellery making suppliers. There are more than 90 retailers in Hatton Garden and there will be some incredible offers available on the day with up to 30% off (see www.londonjewelleryweek.co.uk).

Discovery Zone

An extremely rare opportunity to see how high end jewellery is actually made.

A Manufacturing Tent curated by Barry Jacobs of Jacobs Jewellery Design will host demonstrations on the various stages of jewellery production. During the course of the day four precious gem set rings will be created and then raffled off as prizes.

Other displays from industry experts will lift the veil on areas such as hallmarking, the colour of gemstones and the latest high-tech processes.

Learn some of the fascinating history of the area with a tour from a London Walk specialist and go behind the scenes with local jeweller Rebecca Steiner.

Education Zone

An chance to get your hands dirty with workshops and seminars from the renowned Holts Academy of Jewellery. Attend fascinating talks on jewellery, like 'The Enchanting Allure of Pearls' or 'Jewellery Through the Ages' in the Lecture Tent, with experts on hand to answer your questions or visit the 'Jewellery as a vocation – a showcase of creative careers' exhibition in the gallery space at Langdales on St Cross Street.
